

WILL ASK VOTE RECOUNT — City Council candidates Atty. William E. Anderson (left), and Edward J. Cox (right), today filed with City Clerk George Harvey (center), joint petition for a recount of the votes cast for them in last Monday's election. Both candidates said they were not satisfied with the drawing by lot method of determining the winner, as provided by law, in which Atty. Anderson was the winner. Earlier today the city canvassing board upheld unofficial figures that a 1,471 tie vote exists. The recount, in which votes will again be tallied, may break the tie, the candidates believe. (Daily Press Photo)

Opposition Stiff For Four-Year Term Of Office

LANSING (AP) — Strong opposition faced a Senate-approved proposal to increase terms of state and county officials from two to four years. The proposal came up for a vote in the House today.

This was one of two proposed constitutional amendments the lower chamber is being asked to pass by two-thirds vote today.

The other would lower the voting age from 21 to 19. This has not been acted on by the Senate.

At the same time the chamber scheduled a vote on a Senate-approved measure levying full taxes against state park and game area land held by the Conservation Department in southern Michigan.

The four-year term proposal ran into stiff opposition that cut across party lines when it reached the floor for initial debate Wednesday.

In a maneuver to hurry up the session in preparation for Friday's adjournment the 19-year-old vote proposal was advanced for a vote without debate.

In another action the House sent to the governor a bill to forbid the sale of milk fortified with anything other than vitamin D. The lower chamber approved the Senate's action of attaching the measure to another bill.

Chicago Man Shoots Wife, Self

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Katherine Sordyl, 59, and her estranged husband, Frank, 68, met Wednesday for the first time in 20 years. Sordyl pulled a gun, wounded his wife and killed himself.

The incident occurred in the center of the West Side produce market areas as Mrs. Sordyl waited for a bus to return home from work.

She told police her husband came up to her and said: "Wait a minute, you took some money. Where are you going?" She said she told him she was going home and that he said "No, you're not" and pulled out a gun.

One shot struck Mrs. Sordyl in the thigh, two went wild and Sordyl fired the fourth bullet into his head.

Mrs. Sordyl said she had no idea what her husband meant by his reference to money. She said they were separated 30 years ago and that she had not seen him in 20 years.

Nothing Sinister Seen In Delay On Hydrogen Bombs

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. W. Sterling Cole says he knows of nothing sinister in the fact that high officials debated for months before deciding to press work on the hydrogen bomb, a weapon the government says is due for "greatly increased production."

Cole, New York Republican who heads the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, recalled Wednesday night that full-scale work on the weapon was not decided upon until four months after Russia's first explosion in 1949 of an atomic bomb of the conventional type.

No Holdup Recalled
"This fact is not of itself sinister," he said, "nor does it imply that those who opposed the President's final decision were motivated by a desire to lessen our military strength."

He conceded that events have proved he was wrong in urging against the decision to go ahead with the superbomb.

Other present and former officials said they had no knowledge of any 18-month delay in the H-bomb project mentioned by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) on a nationwide television broadcast Tuesday night.

McCarthy said there was a deliberate delay, and he asked: "If there were no Communists in our government, why did we delay?"

President Eisenhower told his news conference he has never heard of such a delay.

Just Throwing Mud
Former President Truman, who made the decision to proceed with the H-bomb in early 1950, said in Kansas City, "The order was issued."

Head Tax Suggested For New Revenue If Income Levy Is Cut

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate opponents of a further big cut in income taxes said today their stand would not be altered by a substitute "head tax" proposal.

Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Carlson (R-Kan.) said in separate interviews they remained against the proposed income tax reduction because of the substantial net loss of revenue involved.

Sen. Frear (D-De.), one of the sponsors of the slash in income levies, said he proposed to keep all such persons on the rolls by making them liable for a $5 or $10 annual "head tax."

This would continue to make them conscious of their responsibilities as citizens, he said.

The substitute came to light Wednesday after top Treasury officials said the income tax cut could mean dropping 25 million taxpayers from the rolls.

The income tax plan, co-sponsored by Frear and Senators George (D-Ga.) and Kerr (D-Okla.), would raise exemptions by $200 this year, a 4½-billion-dollar tax cut, and to $400 in 1955 and thereafter, a $7,800,000,000 annual slash.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who strongly opposes any additional income tax cut, told the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday that 13,200,000 taxpayers out of the present 77,700,000 would drop off the rolls under a $200 exemption increase, and 25,400,000 under a $400 boost.

Byrd noted that a $10 tax on 25 million persons would bring in 250 million, just a small part of the revenue loss from the income tax reduction.

Senate Squeezes Jobless Benefits

LANSING (AP) — A House-Senate fight over unemployment compensation in the closing hours of the 1954 session loomed today after the Senate passed a less generous bill than approved in the House.

The Senate's Republican leadership was in firm control, jamming the bill through on a 19-7 vote. The measure as approved in the Senate would give jobless men with four children a maximum of $41 a week, compared to the house figure of $43 and the present $35.

The Senate voted to give single men $28 a week, compared to the House vote for $30 and the present $27.

But the Senate added a new provision allowing single men with dependents the same $2 a week per person dependency benefit allowed married men.

Both chambers have agreed to extend the benefit period from 20 to 26 weeks. Both also agreed to give employers a new merit rating system of computing their contributions to the unemployment fund.

Merl Young Perjury Conviction Affirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals today affirmed the perjury conviction of E. Merl Young, a key figure in the Senate's headline-making investigation of Reconstruction Finance Corp. operations.

At the same time the court overturned the perjury conviction of Young's older brother, Herschel Young.

Luxembourg Approves European Army Plans

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — The European army plan has cleared four out of six parliamentary hurdles but the highest still looms ahead, and probably far ahead.

Tiny Luxembourg became the fourth nation to approve the European Defense Community Treaty Wednesday night when the grand duchy's one-house Assembly ratified it 46-4. The Parliament's four Communist deputies cast the only votes against it.

Others approving the six-nation pact so far are Belgium, The Netherlands and West Germany. Italy and France have yet to act.

United States On Edge Of War In Indochina, Senators Warn

By JACK BELL and JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators today spoke of the sending of U. S. naval and air units into the Indochinese fighting as a possibility and one said, "It looks to me as if we are on the edge of war there."

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), who made this estimate in an interview, said, "If we should send in naval and air forces now, it would only bring the Chinese Communists in force and then I don't see how we could avoid sending troops."

Must Not Fall To Reds
The sober comment in Congress followed renewed expressions by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles of the administration's determination that Indochina must not fall to the Communists, and indications from abroad that U. S. allies are not moving as fast as U. S. officials might wish in forming a coalition on defense of Southeast Asia. Dispatches from London and Paris indicated both British and French leaders might consider the time inopportune and want more details on the "united will" and "united action" Dulles has advocated.

Ferguson Urges Refugee Roads In Case Of War

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he will soon sponsor a multi-billion dollar program of federal aid to cities for construction of highways to speed evacuation in case of enemy attack.

Ferguson said in an interview that if another war came major U. S. cities should be stripped of all but their essential populations, such as defense plant workers.

Ferguson, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, persuaded the Senate to agree Wednesday to a 10-million-dollar federal aid program to cities for planning and building radial and access super-highways.

The money was added to a two billion dollar, two-year federal road aid program which the Senate approved by voice vote and sent back to the House, which earlier approved a similar bill carrying $1,800,000,000, the amount asked by President Eisenhower. Unless the House accepts the bigger figure, a compromise will be necessary.

Brothers Evicted On $40,000 Farm

By FENTON A. LUTKE
LAPEER (AP) — Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt were evicted today from their farm home by 36 state troopers and sheriff's deputies who descended upon "Fort Ziegenhardt" at dawn.

The elderly brothers, wrapped in blankets, were carried bodily from the $40,000 farm they lost through failure to pay a $280 assessment in the $935 bankruptcy of a mutual insurance association.

"You might as well take us out and shoot us," Paul, 73, told Sheriff Clark Gregory of Lapeer County.

Their eviction was a sudden move in the 19-year-old legal battle of Lapeer County farmers and the brothers, who erected a sand bag and timber "Fort Ziegenhardt" on their farm to defy eviction.

Gregory read the eviction writ obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney who bought the farm for $13,000 at an auction ordered by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1948.

The writ was issued by Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Lapeer.

The brothers were carried to the edge of M53 by sheriff's deputies. They were then taken to a Marquette hospital though neither was injured in the eviction.

Gregory also handed the brothers a $3,750 levy on their personal property, a judgment obtained by Mrs. White for the farm after the Lapeer woman purchased it a few years ago.

Boys Collect Toll

DETROIT (AP) — Raymond Ford and Willie Alfred, both 17, tried to make a toll bridge out of a new expressway overpass in Detroit, police said today.

Police said the youths demanded money from school children to permit them to cross the overpass. The youths were held for investigation of robbery not armed.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

Travel broadens one — but so does sitting at home in an easy chair.

All sides seem to agree that if and when conclusive decisions are reached and some public statement is made, it must be not simply another "hands off" warning to the Chinese Reds but an announcement of determination with real teeth. The question at this point is what kind of teeth—should the policy decisions be backed up by naval forces, air forces, ground forces, or some combination of these?

Eisenhower's refusal at his news conference Wednesday to spell out probable free world action if the Chinese Communists move in force into Indochina caused some senators to speculate that a program of limited counteraction is in the making.

Among these, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ.) said he sees no need to use U. S. troops in Indochina, but he added in an interview:

"In case of a crisis there, we may need to use naval power and, undoubtedly air power. I don't think anything we are doing now contemplates employing American manpower in Asia."

Tennessee Lawyer To Conduct Hearing In McCarthy Spat

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial lawyer Ray H. Jenkins had orders today to be ready to launch 13 days from now public Senate hearings aimed at finding the truth in the McCarthy-Army row.

Jenkins, a 57-year-old grandfather from Knoxville, Tenn., took the job of special counsel Wednesday with a public pledge to fulfill it with "no prejudice, no bias."

"I have no record, publicly or otherwise, as to Sen. McCarthy or what has come to be known as McCarthyism," he told a news conference.

Will Dig Out Facts
As special counsel to the Senate investigations subcommittee, he said, he intends to dig for and present the facts in the bitter charges involving McCarthy and high Army officials "without any favoritism, in as fair and impartial a manner as I know how."

An Army report has accused McCarthy (R-Wis.) and two of his aides of seeking favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former associate. McCarthy disputed that and said Army officials officials sought to "blackmail" him into dropping a search for subversives in the Army. The Army denies that.

Jenkins succeeds Samuel P. Sears, a Boston lawyer who stepped out Tuesday, five days after being appointed, saying that baseless challenges to his impartiality had made it necessary for him to step aside "in the public interest." Sears was an avowed admirer of McCarthy, although he said he had taken no side in the current row.

Worked For Wilkie
Jenkins got the appointment at a closed door meeting of the subcommittee, which also ordered the televised hearings to start on April 21, instead of the old target date of sometime next week.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) first suggested Jenkins' name for the job. The Illinois senator said he had known Jenkins for about four years.

In Knoxville, various associates of both political parties described him as a fine lawyer and a fair-minded one. Jenkins described himself as a life-long Republican.

He said he managed the Tennessee campaign for Wendell L. Wilkie in the 1940 presidential election campaign. He said he has been "almost completely disassociated" from politics in recent years.

A French communiqué said the garrison defenders again Wednesday night had an "easy night" as the Communist-led Vietnamese still did not resume their direct infantry assaults on the fortress plain. The rebels halted their second round of such frontal charges Monday after six days of murderous French gunfire and hand-to-hand combat.

But the Vietnamese troops kept up their feverish digging of new foxholes and winding trenches within 600 feet of the barbed wire mazes guarding the heart of the French Union stronghold 175 miles west of Hanoi. Observers believed Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap again would send his legions into another attempt to overwhelm Dien Bien Phu.

The leading edge of the cold front early today extended from northeastern Ohio southwestward along the Ohio River and into eastern Texas.

Temperatures generally were below freezing in the northern Plains and northern Great Lakes region. Snow flurries fell in the northern Great Lakes.

The storm center that moved eastward across Lake Superior Wednesday was blamed for at least five tornadoes in Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, mostly in rural areas.

One woman was killed and 12 persons injured in a twister that struck near Kankakee, in northeastern Illinois. Several persons also were injured in a small tornado that hit Swart Creek, near Flint, Mich.

The twisters destroyed scores of farm buildings, killed some livestock and disrupted communications.

Spokesmen for the division said the total cost of the project would run under the legislative appropriation of $720,000.

STICKS TO BANANAS — After 3½ years in which he ate some three tons of bananas—more than 17,000 in fact—five-year-old Willard Hadley of Seattle, Wash., still likes them. He was stricken with celiac disease when 1½ and put on a diet of lean meat and bananas. Cured now, he eats normally, but still loves bananas. Willard starts kindergarten in the fall and you can bet his lunch box will be well stocked with his favorite fruit. (AP Wirephoto)

Michigan Solons Admit They Have Confusing Mess

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING (AP) — Amid unprecedented legislative confusion, Michigan's general fund budget for next year appeared to be slipping about one million dollars into the red today.

With final adjournment 48 hours away, some House and Senate leaders conceded they did not have a clear picture of what the budget contained and did not know whether they would be able to get one.

Pay Raise Is Sticker
One veteran legislator said privately "this is the worst mess I have ever seen."

The stumbling block still was the State Civil Service Commission's 11th hour decision to boost state employee pay after most of the appropriation bills had been written.

An unofficial and rough estimate of the budget at its present stage indicated it stood at about $366 million, one million more than the balanced budget Gov. Williams submitted and six million more than the appropriation committees predicted they would achieve.

Of this total, $5,400,000 of general fund money could be traced to the civil service pay raise plus another $1 million in earmarked funds.

College Funds Boosted
The Senate wrote $1,278,840 into the educational appropriations to provide comparable pay raises in the state colleges and universities.

The Senate also boosted the university's operational budget $507,000 and Michigan State's $395,000 above the house-approved bill to cover higher maintenance and labor costs.

The Senate Appropriations Committee rejected the House plan for a pay raise for legislators from $3,900 to $5,000.

Overruling the House, the Senate put $2,450 into the budget for the Benton Harbor Naval Armory and $10,000 for the Broadhead Armory at Detroit. The house had rejected $15,000 for the naval militia.

New Laws Signed By Gov. Williams

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today signed into law bills to:

Increase the maximum fine from $2,500 to $10,000 for an indictable common law offense for which no other statutory provision is made.

Increase the witness fee in Justice Courts from two dollars to five dollars for each day's attendance and from one dollar to $2.50 for each half day's attendance.

Permit the boards of supervisors to order the county treasurer to destroy tax sale records and state land lists which have been on file for at least 15 years after they have been microfilmed or filmed.

Delete from the investment provisions of the insurance code requiring issuance of bonds of city, county, township, village, school districts and other political subdivisions.

Provide for an increase in salary from five thousand dollars to $5,400 for Circuit Court clerks in counties with more than 350,000 population.

Extend medical payment protection to apply to all automobile accidents, pedestrian or otherwise.

Board Studies Bids On School

The Escanaba Board of Education today is pondering complicated aspects of the bids for the general contracting awards for construction of the new public elementary school.

The legal phases of the problem are being explored by the school board's law firm, McGinn and Fitzharris, and when the attorneys have completed their study of the law affecting this situation, the board will convene to reconsider the bids. The meeting may be held tonight or tomorrow.

The board Tuesday night accepted the bid of the Baker Construction Co., Green Bay, of $235,983 for the base proposal plus $11,908 additional for the construction of a kindergarten room and $1,351 additional for the use of tempered glass in the multipurpose room.

Supervisory Fee Is Factor
Ernest Arntzen, Escanaba contractor, bid $243,329 for the base proposal, $11,684 additional for the kindergarten and $1,233 additional for the tempered glass in the multi-purpose room.

The comparative totals of these bids are $249,242 for Baker Construction Co., $256,246 for Arntzen.

However, the Baker Construction Company submitted a proposal to charge a fee of 15% for supervision of the sub-contractors and Arntzen's fee for this supervision was only 6%.

The total of the sub-contracts is $93,202. If 15% of this sum is added to Baker's bid, the additional $13,980.30 increases the Baker proposal to $263,222.30. If 6% of the sub-contract total is added to Arntzen's base bid, the $5,592.12 additional increase the Arntzen bid to $261,838.12. On this basis, the Arntzen proposal is lower than the Baker bid.

Contends Arntzen Low Bidder
Harold Algeo, of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago, emphasized to the board Tuesday night, however, that the board's contract with the architects contained a provision for a fee of 4% to be paid to the architects if they were to supervise the sub-contracts.

After the board accepted the Baker bid, Mr. Baker agreed to do the supervisory work for a fee of 4%.

At a meeting of the Board of Education Wednesday afternoon at which the board reexamined the bids, Frank Bourke, representing Ernest Arntzen, pointed out that the contractors had not been aware that they were required to bid against the architects on this phase of the project and that they had no knowledge of the architect's contract with the board.

Bourke contended that the base bid of Arntzen plus the Arntzen fee for supervising the sub-contracts was lower than the base bid of Baker plus the Baker fee for supervising the sub-contracts and on this basis, the contract should have been awarded to the Escanaba contractor.

First Ore Train Arrives; No Boats Until April 20

The first trainload of iron ore (17 cars) arrived in Escanaba today from the Greenwood Mine at Ishpeming to mark the start of ore movement at this port for the 1954 season.

But no boats are scheduled to arrive before April 20, said L. A. McMillan, Chicago & North Western Railroad dock agent.

The season is opening late because of large stockpiles of ore at Lower Lakes smelters and the reduced demand for steel following last year's record ore shipping season on the Great Lakes. Last year the season opened March 30 at Escanaba.

Loading At Mines

George C. Stuart, superintendent of the C&NW Railway's Peninsula Division, and McMillan, returned yesterday from Chicago where they attended a pre-season conference. Represented at the meeting were railroad and mining officials and representatives of the ore vessel operators.

Most of the ore received at Escanaba will come this year from the Menominee iron range, as in previous seasons. Mines of the Menominee range are expected to start loading about April 15. Additional ore will come to Escanaba from the Marquette range.

Ore from the Gogebic range will not be transported to Escanaba by rail this year but will be shipped from ore docks at Ashland. This

Discussion Club Reviews Electric Power Situation

The electric power shortage problem in the Escanaba area and proposals for its solution were reviewed by the Discussion Club in meeting last night at Carnegie Library, with Dr. Leonard Vade of Escanaba serving as moderator.

Vernon Ihlenfeldt presented the subject for discussion and reported on the various aspects of the situation and their importance to the industrial economy of the area.

Participating in the discussion were Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager, and William VanEffen of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association, Gladstone.

The topic for discussion at the next meeting of the Club will be selected by Mrs. Don Ickes and Atty. William E. Anderson.

Police Captain Retires May 15

State Police Captain Leo J. Van Conant, commanding officer of the eighth district which comprises all of the Upper Peninsula, will retire May 15 with the completion of 25 years of service.

Van Conant has accepted the position of operations officer in charge of the security section at the new White Pine Mining company copper development at White Pine, near Ontonagon, in the Upper Peninsula. He also will be assistant to former State Police Captain C. W. Robertson, who is head of public affairs, public relations and security. The company is building a new community at the mine site.

Van Conant joined the State Police May 11, 1929. He was assigned to the Manistee post and later was transferred to the Wayne and then the Traverse City post. On November 1, 1937, he was promoted to detective at seventh district headquarters in Traverse City.

On January 16, 1941, Van Conant became a detective sergeant and in 1942 was transferred to the special investigation bureau at East Lansing a sergeant and placed in charge of the newly established operations office at headquarters. His promotion to staff sergeant followed on November 15, 1948.

When the communications bureau and operations office were combined on September 24, 1950, Van Conant was named commanding officer and promoted to the rank of lieutenant.

He was advanced to the rank of captain November 1, 1953, and assigned to command of the eighth district, succeeding retired Captain Thor W. Person.

Van Conant has one citation for bravery and ten for meritorious service.

Van Conant will go on vacation leave May 1 until the date of his retirement. He is married and has a son and a daughter. The family resides in Marquette and will move to White Pine the early part of next month.

Potato Outlook Favorable, Expert Informs Growers

Reduced acreage of potatoes is cause for optimism to a limited degree for potato growers, R. T. Hartwig, agricultural economist of Michigan State College stated at a growers' meeting here yesterday. The optimism is tempered, he says, by the diversion of 30 million acres from production of cotton, wheat and corn. It seems reasonable land will be put into potato production, he states, that much of this deduction for the reason that potato seed is reasonable.

The outlook for potato growers based on present planting intentions should produce a crop of 350 million bushels in which case the amount of surplus potatoes should be small.

Reduction in potato acreage along with improved quality and the finding of new markets for potatoes for frozen french fries and potato chips was stressed by Cargill. Since frozen french fries are now the second ranking frozen vegetable, exceeded only by peas, growers can market potatoes for these uses. Ten percent of the potato crop is now used each year for potato chips and this use has been growing about ten percent yearly.

Joseph Heirman, county agricultural agent, stressed the use of good seed, since that is the foundation on which the crop is built and said that there is no substitute for simply keeping at the job of marketing the potato crop.

Aviation Cadet From Kingsford Killed In Crash

KINGSFORD—Naval Aviation Cadet Edwin F. Dykstra, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dykstra, 529 Lyman street, Kingsford, was killed late Tuesday when a Navy plane crashed into East Bay, near Milton, Fla., his parents were advised Wednesday.

Details of the accident were not disclosed in a telegram received by the parents from Capt. Paul Masterton, commanding officer, Whiting Field, Pensacola, Fla.

Born on March 1, 1933, in Kingsford, Cadet Dykstra graduated in 1951 from Kingsford high school. He enrolled at Northern Michigan College of Education and enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve in April 1953. After attending Northern for two years, he was called to active duty on August 22, 1953.

13 Homeless In Marquette Fire

MARQUETTE — Two families comprising 13 persons were made homeless this morning in a fire that destroyed their residence, three dairy barns and three silos in Marquette Township, near the Marquette Golf Course.

Vehicles worth $35,000 owned by the Ishpeming National Guard were destroyed in the fire. The equipment had been stored in the center barn. It includes four jeeps, three 3 1/2-ton trucks, a 2 1/2-ton dump truck and 10 trailers. All but the dump truck were new.

The families who were burned out by the fire are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Drum and five children and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goedert and four children. The families lost all of their possessions and the Red Cross has issued an appeal for assistance for the families.

The dwelling and farm buildings were owned by George Spear who recently purchased the property from William Dorais. Spear reported that he lost miscellaneous equipment stored in one of the barns.

The fire for a time threatened the Orchard Rest home, located across the road. The convalescent home had a group of 34 patients, of whom four were bed patients. These were evacuated to St. Mary's hospital as a precautionary measure.

The fire was noticed about 4 a. m. by Carol Drum, 10, who notified other members of her family and the Goedert family.

The buildings at one time were operated by the Emblegard Dairy of Marquette. They were constructed in 1914 and at that time comprised the most modern dairy in the Upper Peninsula.

Notice Given For Civil Service Exam For Dagget P. O.

DAGGETT—Competitive civil service examination of applicants for appointment as substitute clerk in the Daggett postoffice has been announced by Daggett Postmaster Donald P. Rivard. A written test is required of all applicants and information and application cards may be obtained at the Daggett postoffice.

Applicants must reside within the delivery zone of the Daggett postoffice and be between the ages of 18 and 50 years. Age limits are waived for war veterans. The position pays $1.36 1/2 cents an hour with opportunity for advancement, Rivard said.

Applications must be filed with the Regional Director, 7th U. S. Civil Service Region, Postoffice Building, Chicago 7, Ill. Deadline for filing is July 7.

5 EHS Students Will Participate In Speech Events

Five Escanaba high school students, including one junior high girl, were selected Tuesday at the District Forensic Festival at Iron Mountain to participate in the Upper Peninsula Forensics Festival which will take place April 30 and May 1.

District winners from Escanaba High School are Marlene McMartin with "Ma's Monday Morning", a humorous reading; Dan Sundman with "The Button", dramatic monologue; Barbara Anderson with "John Brown's Body", narrative poetry; Cynthia Sogard with "Lincoln", lyric poetry, and the junior high school student, Sandy Williams, with "The Big Parade", oratorical declamation.

Coaches of forensics are John Romstad, senior high school, and Charles Koskela, junior high school. Many other Upper Peninsula cities also will have students participating in the contest at Marquette.

Body Of St. Ignace Resident Is Found Near Highway

ST. IGNACE — The body of James Pond was found early Tuesday morning just off the highway near the Jankist Grocery Store in the Third Ward.

The discovery was made by Stanley Jankist shortly after opening his store on Tuesday morning. Police authorities said that Pond had apparently suffered a heart attack and died of natural causes as there was no indication that he had been hit by an automobile.

Pond, who was reported to be about 60 years of age, was a lifetime resident of St. Ignace and worked as a commercial fisherman and woodsman.

Couldn't Lift Wife

PITTSBURGH — Jesse Hale pleaded guilty Wednesday to sending in a false fire alarm. He needed help, he told the judge, because his wife had fallen down and he couldn't pick her up. She weighs in the neighborhood of 270 pounds, he said.

The judge placed him on probation for two years.

KINGSFORD—The city of Kingsford will go on Daylight Saving Time at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 25, the city council decided Tuesday night. Iron Mountain will shift to "fast time" at the same hour.

MARQUETTE—Lightning played havoc with householders and three factories in Marquette Wednesday morning when a flash electrical storm struck shortly after 8 o'clock. Power wires were knocked down at four places in the north central part of the city and a generator at the Number 1 hydro plant was damaged by lightning.

MUNISING—Fire early Wednesday morning destroyed the Club Majestic at Van Meer corner about eight miles east of here on M-94. Owned by Mrs. Stanislaw Maciejewski and operated by her and two daughters, Miss Genevieve Maciejewski and Mrs. Fernandez Whitman, the structure was valued at between $40,000 and $45,000. It was partially covered by insurance.

MEMONIEE—Menominee now has a population of 11,700 people who live in 3,560 households within the city, according to estimates just released. This figure is 4 per cent above last year's total. (The 1950 U. S. Census gave Menominee a population of 11,151.)

NIAGARA—Wisconsin grand lodge officers will participate in the dedication of the new Masonic temple here on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Escanaba High Band Participates In Band Festival

Band members of Escanaba High School Saturday will participate with about 1,000 other Upper Peninsula band students in the Band Festival which is being held at Marquette under the sponsorship of the U. P. Music Association.

Twenty bands will perform during the day, and the program will begin at 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. Each band will present a series of selections, lasting 20 minutes.

Numbers being presented by the Escanaba band are "March of the Steel Men" by Belsterling, "Normandy Overture" by Akers and "Legend of Little John" by Laas.

One hundred and twenty five musicians, eight of them from Escanaba, will appear in a massed band concert during the evening at the Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette. Director of the concert, beginning at 7:45, is adjudicator Glenn Cliffe Bainum of Chicago and selected high school directors.

Festival chairman is T. Ray Uhlinger of the Northern Michigan College music department faculty. Officers of the U. P. Music Association are Walter L. Daley of Negaunee, president; Joseph Dieke of Sault Ste. Marie, vice president; Calvin Bennets of Gwinn, vice president; Jean Sundquist of Negaunee, secretary, and Glenn Anderson of Baraga, treasurer.

Other schools participating are Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Gwinn, Republic, Munising, Gladstone, Iron Mountain, Manistique, Baraga, L'Anse, Kingsford, Powers-Spalding, Stephenson, St. Ignace, Burt, Pickford, Menominee and Sault Ste. Marie.

Kremlin's NATO Bid Rates Quick Rebuff U.S. Gave It

THE United States government wisely wasted no time in rejecting a Russian proposal that the Soviet Union join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Kremlin's purpose could only be to undermine the entire Western defense system.

The Russian note suggested that the United States join 32 European nations, including Russia, in a security pact. Moscow would thereafter consider lining up with NATO, a 14-nation group of Western countries established to counter possible Soviet aggression.

As the State Department noted in reply, this proposition would permit the Russians to get within the Western defensive walls. But it would not give the West the converse opportunity of getting inside the Iron Curtain. Nothing has been said to indicate the Kremlin would relax its iron grip on the nations of Eastern Europe.

That fact alone should be enough to expose the insincerity of this proposed "all European" pact. Anyone with the slightest experience with the Russians could imagine what would happen if this plan were taken up. The Russians would use their membership in NATO to block every effective measure Western countries might conceive for their own protection.

In the meantime, the West would be utterly barred from all contact with Eastern Europe, where preparations for massive aggression could go forward unchecked.

We must hope that not even the most glib neutralists in Europe will fall for this scheme. On its surface it has the marks of plausibility. Unlike the ridiculous proposal Foreign Minister Molotov offered at Berlin, this one does not exclude the United States from participation. And it makes the proper noises about European unity.

But, as we have seen, these appearances are totally deceiving. There is not one sentence in the Russian note which suggests the Kremlin intends real cooperation for the peace and security of the world.

If they were seriously interested in that, they would offer any arrangement that would open the East as well as let them into the West. Furthermore, they would have found some merit in earlier Western proposals for a European pact which would feature, among other things, nonaggression guarantees given to Russia by the Allied powers.

Sen. McCarthy Spouts Off Again

SEN. McCarthy's charge that traitors in the United States government were responsible for 18 months of deliberate stalling on development of the hydrogen bomb is not likely to be taken very seriously. The charge is a typical McCarthyism as evidenced by the fact that the Wisconsin senator forgot to provide any substantiating evidence.

There have been traitors in the American government. It is probable that there are still some traitors in government service. But it is preposterous to charge—and certainly without providing reasonable proof—that there are traitors in such high positions of influence that they could successfully delay development of the hydrogen bomb for a period of a year and a half.

Actually the development of the hydrogen bomb came about a little more rapidly than the American people has expected. It was a real surprise when news of the H-bomb test at Eniwetok in November 1952 reached the public through the private letters of witnesses. Later the government itself acknowledged the success of the experiment.

Sen. McCarthy is unhappy unless he is stirring up a big fuss. The American people are getting a wee bit weary of his unfounded sensationalism.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Manistique—Mrs. Johanna Brantford observed her 80th birthday in the city today.

Escanaba—The city council has voted to advertise for bids for an elevated water storage tank to be erected in the city.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Common labor will receive 40 cents per hour in wages in FERA projects it was determined at a meeting of the local FERA committee.

Gladstone—Men, numbering 163, will be returned to Gladstone with the inception of the new work relief program.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The current educational campaign to prepare the American people for possible war in Indo-China was preceded by a special study by the National Security Council. It was conducted by undersecretary of defense Roger Kyes and undersecretary of state Bedell Smith, and they were charged with ascertaining whether the Truman policy regarding Indo-China was correct.

It had been the definite policy of the State and Defense Department under Truman that Indo-China was vital to the anti-Communist defense of Asia. However, the Burma and Thailand governments have been telling Washington that they can hold out against the Red Chinese even if Indo-China falls. So, rather belatedly—because this problem has been all too apparent for months—the Security Council ordered a special study.

The conclusion was exactly the same as that found under Truman: that a non-Communist Indo-China was essential to the free world.

If it became Communist, the NSC study concluded, Russia would be able to weld two of the greatest resources of Asia: 1. The manpower of China; and 2. the raw materials of Southeast Asia. The chief remaining Communist goal would be the industrial power of Japan. And the NSC study concluded that with Indo-China gone, all the surrounding countries, plus eventually Japan and the Philippines, would fall later.

THE POLITICAL PROBLEMS To intervene actively in Indo-China with the definite risk of war involves delicate, embarrassing political problems. Hence the Eisenhower educational campaign, plus the hesitation. Here are the problems Ike faces:

1. War in Indo-China would show the fallacy of push-button warfare and Mr. Dulles' promise that we would not get bogged down in local wars again.

2. All the budget cuts saved at the expense of the Army, Navy and Air Force would go glimmering.

3. The Republicans used Korea as one of the most effective campaign issues during the 1952 elections; the Democrats could do likewise regarding Indo-China.

TALKS WITH AUSTRALIA Nevertheless, here are the moves now under consideration regarding the blood-soaked jungles regarded so essential to a free Asia:

Australian Interest—Talks have been proceeding with Australia and New Zealand to arouse their interest in Indo-China. If that country goes Red, these two British dominions would be in greater danger than any other part of the Anglo-Saxon world. So far the Anzacs have sent outdated military equipment, and current talks have evoked not one iota of enthusiasm for sending men.

More Air Support—U. S. admirals propose sending two or more airplane carriers which could stand off the French coast and pound the Communists. This may be done. It involves the risk, of course, that Chinese troops will then be dumped into the fighting. So far there are plenty of Chinese-Russian munitions but apparently no troops.

U. S. Troops—The sending of four U. S. divisions has been under discussion. They would replace French metropolitan troops, thus relieving the political furor in Paris where it's demanded that French troops come home. French North African troops would remain. The political repercussions of such a move on the American public are not relished but may be unavoidable.

United Nations—Hitherto France has taken the stand that Indo-China was a domestic problem, not one for U. N. debate. This puts the United States in the awkward position of supporting a so-called "imperialist" government. This is one of the great difficulties in Indo-China and is the reason why the war is so unpopular with Asians.

However, wrapping the U. N. around Indo-China will be extremely difficult—first, because of the original reluctance of the French; second, because of the Soviet veto. Russia was absent when Korea came up, and has regretted it ever since. The Kremlin will not make the mistake of being absent again.

These are the chief problems being discussed backstage today regarding the most difficult problem the Eisenhower administration faces.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE Deputy secretary of defense Roger Kyes has been accused of walking off the job the day he submitted his resignation—though his term won't be up until May 1. It is true that he took a ten-day vacation trip, but I can report he was in touch with his office throughout his vacation, and Kyes is now busy helping to break in his successor . . . Secretary Dulles has been working 'round the clock and is completely exhausted . . . The Army has sent secret cables to its military attaches around the world, asking for public opinion on secretary of state Dulles' threat of "massive retaliation." The Army hoped to use the replies to oppose Dulles. Most of the return cables so far favor Dulles' policy . . . Dr. Beatrice Atchison, the Post Office's lady mathematician, has completed a painstaking survey, proving that the airlines can haul first-class mail profitably for 18 to 20 cents a ton-mile. The Post Office is now paying them 45 to 53 cents a ton-mile . . . The Maritime Board will approve four new luxury passenger liners, subsidized by Uncle Sam, for Grace and Moore-McCormack.

PARNELL THOMAS CAMPAIGNS Up in northern New Jersey, an ex-congressman who is also an ex-convict is staging a vociferous campaign to go back to Washington. He is Parnell Thomas, Republican, who pleaded guilty to taking kick-back funds and served a stretch in the federal penitentiary—though soft-hearted Harry Truman later pardoned him and even forgave his $10,000 fine.

An Englishman said a good gulp of hot whiskey was one way to treat a cold. The result could be staggering.

New-Car Surplus Brings Brisk 'Black Market' In Reverse Gear

By JAMES G. CROSSLEY

CLEVELAND—(NEA)—A new car "black market" in reverse—caused by overproduction instead of shortages—is flourishing on used car lots across the nation this spring.

Instead of being sold at premium prices, as they were during the years of wartime scarcity, 1954 models are being sold as new cars by second-hand dealers at less than showroom prices.

Many of them are actually brand new cars, obtained by the used car dealers through one of several methods at wholesale prices, usually from overstocked dealers.

But some are what the trade calls "spun-ins"—cars which have been towed long distances to the lot, abused while being driven there, or even damaged in shipment.

It is not illegal, but the so-called "bootlegging" has Detroit motor moguls worried enough to issue stern warnings to their franchised dealers. In some cities, dealers themselves are slashing prices to meet the competition; others are banding together in advertising campaigns to warn the public they may be getting fleeced when they buy new cars away from the showroom.

Early this year Henry Ford II said: "We have received a number of complaints directly traceable to our own dealers. We will deal with each case on an individual basis."

And Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, chastised "the selfish desire on the part of some dealers for a quick profit." He warned that G. M. dealers' performances would be watched closely.

Optimists in auto circles say it's no worse than a bad case of indigestion.

"It's simply overproduction and maldistribution," says Earl Burrows, secretary of the Cleveland Auto Dealers Association. "Temporarily the dealer network is having difficulty absorbing the cars. It is an industry problem. We will solve it."

Even so, one Cleveland dealer estimated 25 or 30 new cars on used car lots.

"Some of these cars were probably damaged in transit," he says. "Such cars are auctioned to anyone who will bid and could be fixed up by enterprising used-car dealers."

In Akron, O., a newspaper disclosed that scores of new cars were leaking into the used-car market there.

On the fringes of the operation was an Akron man with a long-time police record. The paper also found cars assigned to a fictitious Miami, Fla., address which was a palatial residence in an ultra-exclusive section.

There are several standard methods of diverting new cars to used-car lots:

First, an authorized dealer may take a small profit by selling direct to the used-car man, usually away from his territory.

Second, a used-car dealer can pose as an auto rental agency or an auto fleet leasing company.

Third, used - car dealers some distance away from Detroit can trade on freight rates which can amount to as much as $400. A car can even be bought retail in Detroit and driven through with another towed behind to give a fine price advantage on the used-car lot.

ADS LIKE THESE, superimposed on a background of a plentiful supply of new cars, typify the sales approach of used-car dealers with 1954 models ("under 200 miles") for sale. Ad warning about price tags is counter-attack by new car dealers.

The South, Southwest and Pacific Coast are particularly beset by "car-legging."

In Dallas, Tex., several used-car lots advertise new cars constantly. A low estimate of the number of cars normally on lots, given by J. N. Whitehurst, general manager of Authorized New Car Dealers of Dallas, Inc., was 500.

"The purchasers cannot be sure the cars are really new, and, therefore, they lose the factory guarantee," said Whitehurst. "Also, the title might not be clear."

However, in Kansas City the authorized agencies believe the bootleg boom is collapsing. They estimate 40 to 50 new cars normally on the lots, but say seven or eight of the lot dealers have quit. Their reason: too close profits and too many headaches.

Chicago also reports little bootlegging. Ed Cleary, general manager of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association, says the organization has disciplined only three of their 485 members.

He pointed out, however, that the city has a mail-order type establishment which claims to get 17 or 18 per cent discount on new cars. It trades with armed forces personnel primarily.

Authorized dealers in Washington, D. C., have escaped the competition, too. A tough dealers' association and a stringent auto registration law make under-table dealing impossible. They keep a close check on serial numbers.

But one western dealer, recently quoted in Automotive News, ordered only 35 per cent of his normal quota. He told the factory he'd "buy the other 65 per cent cheaper on the bootleg market."

On the other hand, the nation's used-car people have answered right back. They particularly do not like the word "bootlegging."

R. W. Workman, president of the National Used Car Dealers Association, says "bootlegging" implies illegal action. Any used-car dealer who possesses new cars obtained them in a completely lawful manner.

"We are not pointing our fingers at the franchised dealers, nor do we take sides," says Workman. "We are interested in having the term 'bootlegger' eliminated. If the term must be used because of the lack of some other name,

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COMMON DENOMINATOR—According to Gilbert Seldes, who is described as an author and critic, television is not accomplishing much as a medium of purveying culture.

Seldes should know whereof he speaks, because he is a former director of television programs for the Columbia Broadcasting system.

"Potentially, television is our most powerful instrument for enlightenment," he says, "but not much of it is being spread by programs today. There is a real danger that will be turned into a nation of intellectual teen agers."

Why he should consider the teen agers as the common denominator of cultural vacuity he does not say. According to our observation, it is at the teen age level that many of our citizens are seriously exposed for the first and last time to anything other than literary mediocrity.

Boys and girls in high school—those long-suffering teen agers—know more about the literary classics than do most of their parents.

THE ADULT LEVEL—Seldes leaves us a bit cold with his comparisons that use the teen age group as the foil for his criticism of television's lack of vision.

And when he says that what TV needs is more dramatic programs on "adult level" we wonder if he may be referring to certain best sellers and plays that have (from all but the most prurient viewpoints) objectionable characters and situations.

If blasphemy, lewdness, smut and nudity are to be rated "adult" entertainment, then let us hope that TV and other entertainment media hold a little closer to the teen age level. There is only disaster ahead for a people who can find no virtue in innocence.

This does not mean that censorship must apply, but only that good taste must be the rule rather than the exception.

Good humor and healthy laughter will be found in clean entertainment that appeals to all age levels; dramatic situation and clever or forceful dialogue are not exclusively in works for adults.

USUAL FARE—The sampling of TV programs reveals much that is mildly amusing (including some commercials), a little that is inspirational or educational—and considerable that is without interest except to the undiscriminating.

For comparison let us also examine the material to be found in your newspapers, most magazines, moving pictures, radio programs, and popular books.

The sampling would show much that is similar to the analysis of TV programs—and for the same basic reasons.

These reasons go to the root of the matter, which is the personal preference of a cross section of Americans. They want to be amused, they care less about being inspired or educated, and the majority are certainly undiscriminating.

What television gives is the usual fare designed to please the largest number of people. And how can author and critic Seldes blame TV for doing that? After all, the sponsors want a return on their advertising dollars.

THE UPWARD TREND—Because we are optimistic in outlook, we believe the TV picture is not quite so dark as Seldes paints it.

The general level of culture in the United States is showing an upward trend, despite the rather harsh criticisms voiced earlier in this column.

Authors are now more inclined toward presenting life than in pointing a moral, but the output is vastly improved since the Victorian era. Playgoers who once thrilled to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Little Nell" would now find those tearjerkers extremely dull.

Newspapers are doing the best informational job in their history and they are supplementing straight news with interpretive articles that keep Americans the best-informed in the world.

Radio and movies in their infancy were subjected to many of the criticisms now being directed at television. Both have presented many hours of stimulating and inspiring entertainment to millions, proving their ability to improve the quality of their output.

Seldes' jabs at TV may spur the industry to greater effort. We hope so. Our only difference with Seldes is in his disparagement of teen agers. We rank them with people—not as a segregated cultural curiosity.

The Doctor Says... Growth Pattern Of Children Is Result Of Many Factors

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

One of the most complicated questions about which I receive inquiries comes from parents who are concerned about the size or rate of growth of their children.

One such question came from a worried mother who writes that she has an eight-year-old daughter who is about the same size as a 10 or 11-year-old. Both father and mother, she writes, are of medium build, and the families are not notably large. The girl is neither overweight nor underweight, and seems normal in every way except her size.

Sometimes questions come in concerning undersize, particularly in boys, and this causes an equal amount of distress.

Growth and development in children has had a good deal of study, but there is still considerable difference of opinion. What should be said at the start, however, is that as yet there is no special injection, or exercise or food, which can be definitely recommended either to speed or slow the growth of children.

Furthermore, it should be understood that the rate of growth varies from one youngster to another, and it does not proceed at the same rate of speed all the time in any growing child. It is quite likely, therefore, that the eight-year-old girl mentioned at the beginning of this column will grow less rapidly in the next few years, and her contemporaries will catch up to her, though this cannot be guaranteed.

It appears that there is a more or less normal pattern of growth for each child. Several methods have been proposed for measuring this, but there is no complete agreement as to what method is the best, though in the United States a device known as the Wetzel grid has been used extensively and is favored by many.

There are many things which influence growth. To some extent size runs in families: if the parents are unusually tall the children are likely to be above average in this respect also. Diet undoubtedly plays a part, probably in height as well as weight. Climate may have something to do with the picture also. Sex is a factor; boys on the average, when fully grown, are taller and heavier than girls, though around 11 or 12 years old girls are often bigger than boys of the same age.

An important factor which influences growth has been traced to a tiny gland called the pituitary which lies at the base of the brain. The front or anterior part of this gland manufactures a hormone which greatly influences growth. In some cases it produces too much of this hormone with the result that the individual develops into a human giant, one of whom has been reported to stand just over nine feet high and weighs nearly 400 pounds. If too little of the hormone is produced, the growth may be correspondingly stunted.

Michigan's Economic Picture Better In '53

(By Congressional Quarterly)

WASHINGTON (CQ) — Across the nation, important state-by-state variations from the pattern for the national economic outlook are apparent, according to a Congressional Quarterly compilation.

Here's how the latest available figures on key indicators shape up for Michigan.

Income payments to individuals in 1952 totaled $12,172 million. This was six per cent higher than in 1951. Income received by residents of the entire Central region amounted to $72,997 million, a five per cent increase over 1951 payments.

The average payment to each person in the U. S. in 1952 amounted to $1,639, up four per cent from 1951. In Michigan, per capita income payments came to $1,815, which was four per cent more than 1951 income payments per person. In the Central region, income payments to each person averaged $1,775, up three per cent from 1951.

The major source of 1952 income payments to residents of Michigan were as follows: Agriculture, 2.9 per cent; government, 12.1 per cent; manufacturing, 41.6 per cent; trade and service, 22.3 per cent; construction, 3.7 per cent; and mining, .6 per cent.

In all except four states, total income payments to individuals increased in 1952. Wage earners, proprietors, farmers, and others received $255,367,000,000 in income from all sources — a five per cent increase over 1951 income payments.

Business Population

The number of firms in operation in the U. S. continued to climb in 1953, but there was also a sharp increase in business failures. New business incorporations in 1953 totaled 102,545, compared to 92,819 stock corporations formed in 1952, and 83,649 corporate formations in 1951. Business failures in the 48 states jumped from 7,587 in 1952 to 8,835 in 1953, according to statistics compiled by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. There were 8,035 failures in 1951.

In Michigan, there were 3,159 new business incorporations in 1953, compared to 2,283 in 1952 and 2,378 in 1951. The number of Michigan firms that failed during 1953 totaled 114. There were 170 business failures in the state in 1952, and 181 failures in 1951.

Federal Construction

There was a 40.3 per cent drop in the value of contracts awarded by the federal government for new construction in 1953. The value of such awards, which in 1952 amounted to $4,730,300,000, dropped to $2,823,900,000 last year.

Federal construction contracts awarded in Michigan in 1952 totaled $62.2 million. In 1953, the contract awards for new construction amounted to $59.3 million, a

Candidates Ask Vote Recounting

Two Escanaba City Council candidates who received a tie vote in Monday's municipal election today joined in petitioning for a recount, because they said they believe a drawing by lot is not the equitable way to determine the outcome of the vote.

The candidates are incumbent Edward J. Cox and Atty. William E. Anderson. Each received 1,471 votes, the board of canvassers reported at 10 a. m. today.

In a drawing conducted under election law procedure for resolving such ties, Atty. Anderson was the winner by drawing a slip on which was marked "elected."

The candidates flipped a coin to see which should first draw. Cox drew first, Anderson second. On opening the envelopes containing the "elected" and "not elected" slips, prepared by City Clerk George Harvey, Anderson was the winner.

In a statement announcing their intention to join in petitioning for a recount, Cox and Anderson said:

"We have agreed to file a joint petition asking for the recount, because we do not feel that drawing lots is the proper and equitable way to resolve the tie. The petition will be filed today."

Cost of the recount will be shared by the petitioners.

Mrs. Day, Former Resident, Is Dead

A former resident of Escanaba, Mrs. Eleanor Day, 34, of Plymouth, Mich., died Saturday, April 3, at Ann Arbor after a long illness.

Funeral services for the daughter of John Hoffman, 425 Houghton Ave., Manistiquette, were held Tuesday at Plymouth.

In addition to her father, Mrs. Day is survived by her husband, Earl, three daughters, Carol, Judy and Joyce, and a son, Richard, all at home. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Howard Larson of Chandler, Ariz., and a brother, Stanley Hoffman of Lake Villa, Ill.

Brazilian Doctor To Observe Public Health Work Here

Dr. Carlos Paes Leme Sa, Brazil, now chief of a sanitary district there, will come to Escanaba Monday for a 12-day training period with the Delta-Menominee Health District, it was announced today by William C. Harrison, health district director.

Dr. Sa arrived in the United States Jan. 15 and will spend four months in this country for observation and study of public health organization and administration under joint sponsorship of the Foreign Operations Administration and the Public Health Service.

He is particularly interested in receiving specific training in organization and administration of various types of public health services in rural areas. He will stay in the Delta-Menominee area until April 23.

His stay in the United States has already taken him to Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and California. He will return to Washington, D. C., and then go to Puerto Rico and from there return to Brazil on May 14.

Tornado Talk Closes Schools In St. Louis While Pupils Pray

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A tornado rumor—but no tornado—swirled through the St. Louis area Wednesday, putting residents on edge and moving some school authorities to dismiss classes early.

About 100 pupils at St. Patrick's Catholic grade school in East St. Louis, Ill., were herded into the school's basement where they prayed until their parents arrived. Most schools in the area dismissed at regular hours, but about 600 parochial school pupils were sent home early.

What caused the jitters apparently was a weather broadcast—for the benefit of aircraft—from Scott Air Force Base outside near Belleville, Ill. It warned pupils of tornado conditions in a 50-mile east-west belt beginning 30 miles south of Belleville. The warning apparently was exaggerated as it passed from person to person.

Equalization Bills In Lansing Fought By County Officials

LANSING (AP)—Bills requiring that all local taxes be assessed on the state equalized valuation, already approved in the Senate, were up for a vote in the House today.

They survived a strong attempt to kill them in a sharp skirmish when they came up for initial debate in the House Wednesday.

School interests said the bill permitting them appeals was virtually meaningless because the House had attached an amendment requiring that school appeals must have approval of the county boards of supervisors.

County officials are fighting tooth and nail against the equalization bills.

Twister Strikes In Flint Region

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A small, fierce tornado hopped through Swartz Creek, near Flint, Wednesday night while heavy thunderstorms driven by furious winds pounded across Southern Michigan. The twister struck about 7:40 p. m.

Two persons were reported slightly injured along the twister's devastating route.

The tornado flattened the single-story, cement block volunteer fire hall; ripped roofs off several homes in its path, wrecked power lines and felled several garages in its brief but furious visit.

Swartz Creek, a community of about 1,200, is located only 25 miles southwest from the scene of the terrible tornado which swept through the Beecher district on Flint's northern outskirts last June. That twister killed or fatally injured 116 persons along its path through a residential district. It also destroyed over 100 homes in the area.

Flint residents were jittery Wednesday night when winds up to 68 mph accompanied by thunder, lightning, hail and rain rocked the city, felling trees, ripping roofs of houses and garages, knocking out power lines and breaking windows with fierce abandon.

The Swartz Creek fire hall was leveled but Fire Chief Jack Adams said no one was inside at the time.

A 500-pound fire siren fixed to the roof of the 30 by 40-foot building was reported missing. Two fire trucks, housed in the structure, were reported damaged.

Those injured were Herschel Wise, 38, and his daughter, Virginia, 14. Wise suffered cuts and bruises when he was blown off the back porch of his home. Virginia was treated for a foot cut when she was struck by flying glass.

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (AP)—Two planes collided in the air over the northeast section of this industrial town today and nearly 30 persons were reported killed.

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A pair of twins, a boy and girl, have set a new weight record at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Milford H. Williams Tuesday night, the boy weighed in at 9 pounds, 13 ounces and the girl scaled 9 pounds, 11 ounces for a combined weight of 19 pounds, 8 ounces.

The parents have seven other children, including another set of twins. Williams is a steelworker.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead vigorously today for the second straight session since the break that brought it down abruptly from the high of the year.

The business pace was well ahead of Wednesday's 1,830,000 shares.

Among major divisions doing well were metals, chemicals, oils, aircrafts, railroads, steels, motors, rubbers, and electrical equipments.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Boeing, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Southern Pacific, and Standard Oil (N.J.).

U. S. government bonds were fairly steady.

Prentiss M. Brown Decides He Will Not Seek Senate Seat

DETROIT (AP)—Prentiss M. Brown, former U. S. Senator and now chairman of the board of Detroit Edison Co., decided today against seeking the Democratic nomination for his old Senate seat.

Brown had been mentioned frequently as a possible Democratic nominee to run against Republican Senator Homer Ferguson.

The Detroit Edison official gave two main reasons for his decision:

1—He wants to spend more time with his family.

2—He wants to finish the work he has started as chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Construction work on the bridge began only a couple of weeks ago. Brown was a Senator from 1936 to 1943.

Military Ranks Ban Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today announced a revised security program designed "to clean out and keep out" of the armed forces persons deemed to be security or loyalty risks.

Wilson announced the new directive, and the security - loyalty yardsticks it lays down, at a public hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Its objective, he said, is to provide uniform standards for the Army, Navy and Air Force and "to speed up our procedures for getting such individuals out of the service and for keeping them out."

"I have come here this morning with a single purpose in view," Wilson said in a statement. "It is to give concrete assurance to this committee and to all concerned that the matter of subversives, Communist sympathizers, or other such security risks in the armed forces is being carefully worked out."

Meyer Township Budget Approved

HERMANSVILLE—The Meyer Township Board approved Supervisor Roy E. Johnson's proposed budget of $15,035 at a meeting of the group in the township room of the Club House. This budget includes all proposed salaries and the program approved by the board for 1954-55.

Included in the budget are: salaries, $850; board meetings, $400; fire department $2500; Township hall, $750; village cleanup and cemetery, $1100; police patrol, $350; library, $600; street lights, $1200; insurance, $150; Board of Review, $75; workmen's compensation, $150; purchase of 2-ton truck with hydraulic dump for use of cleaning up of village, $700; miscellaneous expense $200.

Open House Sunday At Wells School

WELLS — The Wells Township school board will hold open house at the new Wells school Sunday, April 11, from 2 to 5 p. m.

The new school, recently opened, includes grades 3 through 8. Members of the Wells Parent Teacher Association will serve coffee and cake during the open house hours. Assisting will be the Mesdames Lawrence Klug, Jack Carlson, Louis Dufour, John Collins, Nick Pinar, Mike Eugate, James Hughes, Roy Belanger, Marvin Vanderville, Robert Jensen, Edwin Johnson, Rudy Gagner, Joe Berube, Louis Anderson, Earl Reno, Henry Levesque, Bert Ray, Clement Larson, Edward Briggs and Richard Seibert.

Nothing Sinister In H-Bomb Delay, Washington Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first announced hydrogen explosion occurred 34 months later, in November 1952.

Summer T. Pike, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission at the time, said in Augusta, Maine, he didn't know what McCarthy was talking about and he added of the senator: "I suppose as he frequently does he is just throwing mud and hoping some of it will stick." Pike is a Republican.

Rep. Cole did not mention McCarthy in his statement, but it obviously was prompted by the senator's broadcast.

"While it is true," he said, "that there was considerable discussion between September 1949 and January 1950 concerning the need of developing the hydrogen bomb, this fact is not of itself sinister."

"At the same time, we know that there is no security system which can guarantee to be 100 per cent effective against traitors."

"Therefore, we cannot exclude categorically the possibility that a person or persons in our program might have been motivated by a desire to lessen our military strength."

GROWING SPIRITUALLY

By
E. STANLEY JONES

Acts 27:40-44 (Moffatt)

THREATENED BY SUPRA-PERSONAL FORCES

We have seen that we feel insecure because at the moment of the discovery of the atomic bomb we find that oceans which used to protect us are now mere ditches to be hopped over in a matter of hours, and boundaries between nations are not valid in the air, where planes roam at will. And there is no defense—no sure defense. This is the over-all picture of our anxiety, but there are other contributory causes. We feel the threat of an alien way of life upon our civilization—atheistic communism. As someone has put it: "The distinction is between a peripheral threat, i.e., a threat which members of society can meet on the basis of the assumption of their culture—and a threat on a deeper level—namely, a threat to the underlying assumptions, the charter of the culture itself." We could stand this if we were quite sure of our own culture. But into our own culture have penetrated alien elements that weaken it—supra-personal elements.

The psychologist Fromm expresses it in these words: "The individual is now threatened by powerful supra-personal forces capital and the market. His relation with his fellow men with everyone a potential competitor, has become hostile and estranged; he is free—that is, alone, isolated, threatened from all sides." We have built, "Thou shalt love thyself," a pagan attitude, into our culture, instead of "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," a Christian attitude. Hence we are uneasy, feeling we have missed the Way. We have said: "Every man for himself, and the devil take the hindmost" only to find the devil is not only taking the hindmost; he is taking us all—taking us all with fear.

We have just enough cooperation and good will and thought for others within our civilization to keep it going. But we are not certain for how long. For we are exhausting our moral and spiritual reserves. Feeling our moral and spiritual lack, we in America have tried to use the substitute method of buying our way into the hearts of men only to find that the thing we depended on most, money hasn't the power to buy affection.

O Father, Thou art pushing us into the corner in order to talk to us. Help us to listen, for we've listened to alien voices. Amen. AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: Security is security only when it is guaranteed by God.

(From the book "Growing Spiritually" published by Abingdon-Cokesbury Press of New York and Nashville. Copyright. Released by NEA Service.)

Tokyo Peace Diplomat Of Dec. 7, 1941, Dies

TOKYO (AP)—Saburo Kurusu, the Japanese diplomat who was conducting peace negotiations in Washington when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor, died at the age of 68.

Kurusu, Japan's special peace ambassador to the United States, has been ill since the end of World War II when he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. Doctors said death resulted from another stroke.

He insisted until his death that he knew nothing of the Pearl Harbor attack when he appeared at the State Department Dec. 7, 1941, for further talks with U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Kurusu was not tried on war crimes charges, but in 1948 was barred from holding public office, a right restored in 1952.

Prentiss Brown May Get In Senate Race

Is There Life On Mars? Science May Learn Soon

WASHINGTON—Is there life on Mars? A team of astronomers leaving for South Africa hopes to have an answer within the next six months.

In June, earth's near neighbor will come within 40,000,000 miles, its closest approach since 1941. A "Mars Expedition" to Bloemfontein, South Africa, sponsored by the National Geographic Society and Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Arizona, will play a leading part in world-wide observations of the Red Planet.

Dr. E. C. Slipher, famed for his studies of Mars, will direct operations at Bloemfontein. He will use the 27-inch refracting telescope of the Lamont-Hussey Observatory, most powerful in the southern hemisphere for detailed photography of the planets.

Throughout the summer, 17 other observatories in Australia, Argentina, Egypt, France, India, New Zealand, Japan, Java, and the United States will study and photograph Mars. Both the 100-inch telescope at Mt. Wilson, California, and the 200-inch instrument on Palomar Mountain will be turned on the planet.

Ideal Conditions
At its near approach, Mars will be high in the southern sky. At Bloemfontein, Mars will pass almost directly overhead each night. Orange Free State skies are usually clear and steady in late spring and summer. For these reasons, the South African station is expected to contribute the major observations of the atmosphere and surface phenomena of Mars.

The international Mars Committee, formed last year, has a triple objective: greater knowledge of Mars' atmosphere, its exact size, and its changing surface features—indicating perhaps some form of life.

The committee hopes the forthcoming round-the-world study of Mars will enable science to gain its most searching look at Martian "areography"—astronomers' term for what on earth is called geography.

An exact measurement of Mars' diameter might change the accepted idea of the genesis of the solar system. If its diameter were known, scientists could figure out whether Mars has an iron core as does earth. If it is proved there is no core—and indications are there is none—then Mars could never have been liquid. The theory that all planets might have been torn out of the sun, or thrown out of it, would be open to serious doubts.

Signs of Life
Markings on Mars are a dark greenish blue in the Martian summer, turning to a browner shade as fall and winter approach. This has led to conjecture that they are caused by vegetation.

If the Mars study group can substantiate the presence of plant life—by finding evidence of chlorophyll, for instance—it would prove that life exists on both planets in our solar system capable of supporting it. Thus life ceases to be unique to earth and may be present in other solar systems as well.

Astronomers are also anxious to nail down whether there are "canals" on Mars and, if so, what they are. A network of thin, straight lines frequently has been observed over vast areas of the planet, but the pattern never has been photographed satisfactorily. The "canals" behave like vegetation, but they may simply be natural features. The Mars group hopes to learn what produces them.

Blue Cloud Mystery
A fundamental feature of the Martian atmosphere is the "blue envelope" that clouds the planet's surface when pictures are made by blue light. By red light the opaque cloud is penetrated and surface details may be seen with a powerful enough telescope.

At rare times, however, and particularly near the "opposition" point when the planets approach more closely, the cloud barrier disappears. Then the surface of Mars may be photographed by blue light. The "Mars Expedition" at Bloemfontein will make an intensive study of this unusual "blue clearing."

Unlike the moon, only other body in the heavens whose surface astronomers can photograph regularly, Mars rotates like the earth. Both sides can be seen. Also, like earth, it is subject to changing weather.

A day on Mars, its period of one rotation, is only 37 minutes longer than a day on earth. By having observatories in operation all around the globe, a round-the-clock watch can be kept on the planet's entire surface.

Amateur astronomers will aid the Mars Committee's work by keeping careful watch on Martian weather during 1954. They will help map cloud cover, polar caps, and other rapidly changing features.

Michigan Youth Gets 20 To 25 Years For Holdup In Arizona

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—An 18-year-old Michigan youth faces the next 25 years in Arizona prison as the driver of a getaway car in a Flagstaff liquor store holdup last March 18.

Duane Reger, a Clare county escapee from a Michigan prison honor camp, was sentenced by Superior Judge H. L. Russell. Reger pleaded guilty to armed robbery.

One of Reger's two escape companions, Ronald Taylor, 18, of Midland, was killed in the crash of the getaway car at a roadblock 45 miles north of Flagstaff.

MAMIE'S DRESS

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, long famous for her selection of hats, now becomes newsworthy on account of one of her dresses. The dress happens to be the one she wore when she married First Lt. Dwight D. Eisenhower in her parents' Denver, Colo., home. The garment is now among a display of historic American garments in the Smithsonian Institution, Washington.

On wedding day in July, 1918.

Paraguay Ends Its Isolation

WASHINGTON—In the heart of South America, an old river port a thousand miles from the ocean is taking on transatlantic business.

Asuncion, capital of landlocked Paraguay, recently turned out to cheer the first freighter of a British merchant line. The service will operate monthly from Liverpool without the usual transshipment at Argentina's Buenos Aires.

For Paraguayans this new overseas traffic is a break in the vast land barrier that has long made their country one of the world's most isolated regions, says the National Geographic Society. It is another example of the usefulness of their many rivers.

Asuncion is linked to the Atlantic by two of the country's three great rivers—the 2,000-mile Parana and the Paraguay which drains the heart of the nation. The capital stands at the confluence of the Paraguay and the Pilcomayo that starts in the Andes of south-west Bolivia.

Highway of Exploration

More than four centuries ago the Parana was the highway of exploration into central South America that led to the founding of Asuncion. In 1527 Sebastian Cabot sailed up the river to its junction with the Paraguay and then on to the Pilcomayo.

A decade later, another Spanish party came that way, seeking the "northwest passage" to the continent's legendary wealth of gold and silver. Its leaders, including Domingo Martinez de Irala, governed the region for the next 20 years.

They built a "refuge and a shelter" on a fine bay of the Paraguay River. The crude settlement, originally considered only a base for treasure-hunting expeditions, became the permanent city of Asuncion and capital of the future Republic of Paraguay.

Asuncion today—with its cobble streets, its colorful market, and scenes of donkey-riding country folk—still has the air of a frontier city. Its languid charm is accentuated by rows of fragrant orange trees along broad avenues, luxuriantly flowering parks, and patio gardens of roses, magnolias, jasmine and gardenias.

Asuncion's population is more than 200,000, one-seventh of the whole nation's. It is Paraguay's only big city. As a port, it handles 90 per cent of the imports (textiles, machinery, fuels) and the exports (cotton, timber, cattle products, tobacco, and yerba mate, or Paraguayan tea).

Tragic History

Modern growth of Asuncion has followed a tragic course.

Not only geography isolated Paraguay and its capital. Under the dictatorship of "El Supremo"—Rodriguez de Francia who came to power in 1814 after the overthrow of Spanish rule—all foreign trade and travel were halted. Even communication with the outside world was broken off.

El Supremo's successors put an end to the fanatic isolationism. But a series of events led in 1864 to a devastating struggle against the triple alliance of Paraguay's neighbors, Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. In five years of war, half of Paraguay's estimated half million people were wiped out.

With most of its young men lost, Asuncion and the rest of the country turned to the huge tasks of rebuilding the shattered towns and economy. Only recently has the normal balance between the sexes been reestablished.

Garden

Birthday Party

GARDEN—Mrs. Alex McLeod was the guest of honor at a birthday party Thursday afternoon when relatives and friends came to call at her home. Lunch was served from a table decorated with two birthday cakes. Mrs. McLeod received many gifts and a purse of silver from her friends.

Out-of-town guests attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis McLeod and son, Vaughn. Mrs. James Riese and two children and Mrs. William Beveridge and Lynn of Gladstone; Mrs. Nick Bonifas, Mrs. Roy Wester and Mrs. Ike Bonifas of Isabella; Mrs. Harry Lamkey of Fayette, and Mr. and Mrs. Gust Soderberg of Danforth.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bonifas left Thursday for South Dakota where they will spend several weeks with Mrs. Bonifas' sister. Their two daughters are staying at the home of their grandparents during this time.

Mrs. William Winter and Mrs. Lee Killman motored to Calumet Monday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Winter's cousin, Miss Mary MacDonald, a well known Copper Country teacher, who died Saturday. They returned to Garden Tuesday.

Raymond Winter, a teacher in the Menominee school system, spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Winter.

William Henry Harrison was the oldest man to become President of the United States, being 68 when he took office.

Rev. Eckerman Is Delegate To World Conference

Eleven Michigan men, including the Rev. R. E. Eckerman of Escanaba, have been named to represent the Michigan Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists at the 47th quadrennial session of the World Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, scheduled to open May 24 in San Francisco.

More than 30,000 persons are expected to attend this "largest and most important" Adventist convention. Nearly 200 countries and island groups will be represented. Approximately 1,000 church leaders will be official delegates.

Named as delegates from Michigan are: Dr. G. E. Hutches, Dr. A. F. Johns, Rev. H. D. Burbank, Rev. H. F. Roll, and Rev. A. R. Mohr, former Escanaba pastor; Rev. L. C. Caviness, Miles; Rev. R. L. Boothby, Rev. W. R. Archbold, Detroit; Rev. A. K. Phillips, Battle Creek; Rev. W. W. White, Big Rapids, and Mr. Eckerman.

Dr. G. E. Hutches, chairman of the Michigan delegation, said today that many additional pastors and laymen from Michigan are expected to attend the event.

Sessions will be held daily in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium. Officers will be elected for the ensuing 4 years and other important business matters of the church will be acted on. The mammoth Cow Palace, San Francisco's largest seating arena, will be used for overflow crowds on weekends, church officials said.

Highlighting the two-week conference will be mission pageants and a symposium on "Christ the Hope of the World," also to be discussed at the August meeting of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill. At least five network radio and television shows will originate at the Adventist conference, it was announced.

Many Receive 4-H Awards In Achievement Program

Two girls were picked to compete at Camp Shaw in July, exhibits of 12 were judged eligible for competition at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, and numerous county and local honors were conferred here Wednesday afternoon as a 2-day County-wide 4-H Achievement program concluded with a style show in the Oak Theatre.

The annual Achievement Day program got underway Tuesday with a well-attended exhibit of work completed in 379 projects during the year, in the Lincoln School gymnasium. A movie Wednesday morning, the style show, and honor awards Wednesday afternoon were included.

Master of ceremonies for the program Wednesday afternoon was Harrison Beach of Gulliver.

Camp Shaw Winners
Awards were presented by Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent, and Ben Westrate and Miss Dorothy Erler of Marquette, assistant state 4-H club leaders.

Exhibits were judged by Miss Erler and Westrate, of Marquette, and the style show was judged by Mrs. Arthur Hough, county school superintendent; Miss Erler, and Rose LaChapelle, manager of the Manistique branch of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Named to compete at Camp Shaw were Carol Latsch of Germfask, sixth-year member who made a yellow formal; and Lois Williams, a third-year member who modeled a pink embossed dress.

Banker Calls Detroit VA Office Stupid; Asks Investigation

DETROIT (P)—A Michigan mortgage banker urged a congressional investigation of the Detroit office of the Veterans Administration.

Benjamin Levinson, president of the Michigan Mortgage Corp., of Detroit, claimed the Detroit VA office has operated with "stupidity, inefficiency and lack of interest."

His request for an investigation went to Senators Ferguson and Potter, Michigan Republicans; T. B. King, VA chief, and several Michigan congressmen.

Levinson charged in his letters that the Detroit office has a logjam of 7,000 applications for GI loans for homes. He said they totaled $70,000,000 and were for residential construction.

'Stique Resident Tells Of Travel In England, Bermuda

MR. AND MRS. WALTER MOON

Unless you have unlimited funds to spend, the American tourist planning to visit in Europe is "better off to stay home," Walter Moon, of Manistique, observed this week on his return from a 6-month visit in England, Bermuda and Florida.

Moon, a native of England, and his wife left here Oct. 17, 1933 for Montreal and after visiting there for a week embarked for England.

Recalling the sharp changes in temperature, from the warm journey down the St. Lawrence to 17-degree-below-zero weather in the New Foundland-Labrador area, the Manistique resident observed that the further one traveled toward the Gulf Stream, the warmer the weather became.

Produce For Export

In England, however, damp cold weather greeted the Manistique residents, and they left Bournemouth Jan. 17 for Southampton, and later Bermuda.

Electrical equipment, such as lamps and heaters, are of poor quality in England, Moon noted. Most of the country's better grade products are manufactured for export and it is difficult for Englishmen to obtain quality merchandise, he explained.

"If you are a tourist in England, you can buy better foods and beverages after showing your passport. Residents there enjoy traveling in the company of an American, because they can obtain quality products," Moon observed.

To Bermuda

For "unadulterated artistry" there is nothing like an English train, Moon noted in describing travel in the English countryside. They are "miniature and beautiful," though one does miss having baggage checking service," the Manistique resident stated.

Moon also described the thrill of watching the guard change at St. James Palace, of hearing martial music by British soldiers and of seeing the many historic palaces, churches and other buildings in England, including some built at the time of the Norman invasion in 1066.

From England the Moons traveled to Bermuda aboard the Britannic, a luxurious boat which draws 36 feet of water. On entering Bermuda harbor, passengers were required to deposit 40 pounds, an amount sufficient to secure their return passage, before boarding the small tender which took them ashore.

Visited Niece

Prices were extremely high in Bermuda and "10 is as nothing" there, Moon noted. Rooms with breakfast and the evening meal cost $36 a day each, and the cheapest are $10 a day, he explained.

Stores on Bermuda are artistic and attractively built, he said.

Memories which Moon enjoys talking about include those of the fog and the crowd along the docks in England, the historic sights, and the St. Bernard dogs which gather contributions to a trust fund for orphans and widows of trainmen.

The dogs are stuffed after death and placed in showcases, and one St. Bernard had collected 77,000 pounds in his lifetime, Moon noted. The rate of exchange on a pound is now $2.82, he added.

While in England, the Moons visited in Hoy Lake with Mrs. Eve Grindley, a niece of Mr. Moon.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Former Thompson Resident Adopts Family Of Six

THOMPSON—A former Thompson township resident and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Martin of Minster, Ohio, have adopted a family of six children in Ohio.

Mrs. Martin is the former Julia Stanley, daughter of Miles Stanley of Thompson.

The couple adopted the children through a court adoption decree. The youngsters had been wards of the state since 1933, shortly before their mother died.

The children are Elizabeth, 5; Bernard, 4; Brenda Lou, 2; Diana, 9; and John, 8.

The Martins plan to spend their summer vacation here.

Electric Storm Causes Damage

An electrical storm in Manistique Wednesday morning shorted one of two water pumps in the city water station, and destroyed a deep freezer and storage house at the Oren Burrell residence on the River Road.

City firemen were called at 10 a. m., to the Burrell residence and were there more than an hour. The freezer and the building in which it was housed were a total loss.

Fuses in transformers and a motor in a 63-horsepower motor were burned out in the old pumping station here. The amount of damage had not been determined Wednesday afternoon, Orson Livemore, city manager reported.

A gasoline stand-by motor was used for the operating water pump during the two hours Wednesday while current was out at the pumping station. There was no shortage of water during the period.

General's Praise Precedes 'Stique Soldier In Europe

When Pvt. James J. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nelson, of Manistique, arrived in Wertheim, Germany recently, he found the S-3, Major Robert C. Britt, expecting him.

Prior to his arrival in Germany, the Manistique soldier's record as fifth highest in his division on a fire detection specialist proficiency test had been communicated to Germany by Maj. Gen. William Mitchell, CG, 5th Armed Division.

Pvt. Nelson made his high score while undergoing basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He studied engineering at Michigan College of Mining and Technology for three years before entering service last August.

Nelson now has a computer's job in the battalion FDC in Wertheim.

The number of farm tractors in the United States increased from 1,885,000 in 1942 to 4,170,000 in 1952.

has a goal of $20 million, and Schoolcraft's quota is $1600, Carlson stated.

Contributions from Schoolcraft County should be sent to Roy Anderson at the Manistique First National Bank, Carlson added.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully for millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 10 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. More Know Now That Cancer Can Be Cured

The American Cancer Society's program to acquaint Americans with cancer's seven danger signals is paying off, Carl L. Carlson, chairman of the Cancer Society's crusade here, stated today.

A nationwide Gallup survey of a cross-section of adults discloses that 65 per cent of those questioned were aware that cancer is curable, he explained. In 1940, only 56 per cent of those interviewed knew that cancer could be cured.

"A fact of special interest in connection with the latest Gallup poll," the chairman pointed out, "is that one of every five persons who believed recovery was possible voluntarily qualified his or her answer by saying it was curable of caught in time."

"We have still a long way to go before we attain maximum cooperation in early detection of cancer and prompt treatment," Carlson noted. This was dramatically evidenced last year when 73,000 American cancer victims were cured, but another 73,000 died unnecessarily because they received treatment too late, he explained.

The Gallup survey, Carlson observed, showed 54 per cent of adult Americans could name one or more symptoms of cancer, as compared with 38 per cent in 1940. The Cancer Society is spending almost $5,000,000 annually on a campaign to inform the public about the latest cancer facts.

Public education is, however, but one phase of the Society's approach to the cancer control problem, Carlson asserted.

"More than $4,500,000 is being spent yearly to aid cancer research and approximately the same amount is being allocated to service to patients, including setting up and operating clinics and detection centers and furnishing cancer patients with transportation, dressings and indigent care," he pointed out.

The entire program is dependent on the income from public contributions, the chairman pointed out. The Society's 1954 fund-raising crusade, now underway,

GYC To Sponsor Fleet Of Prams

The Gladstone Yacht Club voted in meeting Tuesday evening to purchase several prams, a small new popular sailing craft, and then will seek public donations to purchase others so that there may be a local fleet of 7 or 8, it was announced yesterday by Commodore Vincent P. Johnson.

The club will also start a class to train local youths in the handling of the tiny craft. Any Gladstone youth will be eligible to learn. Date of the opening of the class will be announced later.

Plans for racing and water events for the coming summer were discussed at the meeting.

Attending the meeting from the Escanaba Yacht Club were Commodore Russell Johnson, Ed Erickson, John Anthony and John C. Walch. They brought a new pram with them and told of the success had with the popular craft at Escanaba.

Plans were made for a ladies night party for Yacht Club members on the evening of Saturday, April 17.

City Briefs

Miss Wanda Vogt and Miss Port Melcher, students at Carroll college, Waukesha, Wis., left today for an Easter vacation visit in Florida. They are making the trip by car.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford H. Smith, Huntington Park, Calif., are the parents of a daughter, their second child, born Saturday, March 27, at Huntington Park. The child weighed 7 pounds and 6 ounces at birth and is being christened Gail Lynne. Mrs. Smith is the former Lois Lavelle, daughter of Vincent Lavelle, Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone.

Miss Dolores Augustson has returned to her home from Detroit where she attended a hair fashion forum held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Largest of all sea turtles is the leather-back, which sometimes attains a length of eight feet and a weight of 1000-pounds.

April 5. Games were played and each child received a memento of the occasion. The table was decorated in the Easter motif and was centered with a large cake, iced in green. The little honored guest received many nice gifts.

Those attending were Donald Erickson, Jerry Nolan, Mike Brickie, Peter Kelly, Terry Jandis, Sally Hupy, Grant Hupy, Lynda Skellenger, Charles Norquist, Tommy Vanderberghe and Carmen and Lynn David, sister and brother of Glen.

Whiskey In Car Proves Costly

Possession by four minor youths, 17 to 19, of two pint bottles of whiskey in an auto brought penalties totaling $217.20 when they appeared before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg here yesterday.

Members of the quartet were Robert Koski, 17, Rock, a student; Leslie S. Koski, 17, Rock, student; Gerald L. LeClaire, 19, Rock, woodworker, and Melvin Manty, 18, Negaunee, mineworker.

Arrests were made last Saturday evening about 8 on Highway H-34 between Rock and Tromby by Michigan State Police. All were in the same car.

Upon entering pleas of guilty each of the four was fined $50 and assessed court costs of $4.30.

Manty paid his fine while the others made a down payment and made arrangements to pay the balance.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

The colleges are swinging into the spring practice stage of football around the country. . . . We see four Upper Peninsula boys listed on the squad of 100 candidates for the University of Wisconsin team. . . . Prospective Badger varsity gridders are Ken Hofer of Stephenson and Bob Gingrass of Iron Mountain, halfbacks; Keith Lundin of Iron River, end, and Jerry Cvangros of Ironwood, tackle. . . . Cvangros is the big brother of Ironwood's great football, basketball, track and baseball star, Pat Cvangros.

Folks in this area will also recognize the name of Don Bonamer, former Escanaba student who left here to attend high school at Oconomowoc, Wis., where he starred in athletics. . . . Don is enrolled at the U. of W. and is a halfback candidate for the football team.

Speaking of football, the Green Bay Packers have high hopes for Max McGee, Tulane halfback who signed a contract this week as the Pack's fifth draft choice. . . . Coach Lisle Blackbourn sees a remarkable likeness between McGee and ex-Badger great Elroy Hirsch. . . . McGee was the pass-catchingest halfback in college football last fall, nailing 34 throws for 437 yards and four touchdowns. . . . He'll get a chance as a Packer offensive end. . . . McGee is the 18th player announced as signed by the Packers thus far. . . . But when Blackbourn spoke here recently at a joint meeting of the service clubs he chuckled: "We're not giving you all our pie at once. . . . we've got some hot announcements to release before our season ticket campaign begins!"

Vonnie Colby, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie and a two-time Upper Peninsula women's golf champion, drew heavy praise from Jack Kofod of the Miami Herald recently: "Young Vonnie Colby promises to be one of the best women golfers of the year to come. . . . Miss Colby doesn't hit as long a ball as Babe Zaharias, for instance, but she is extremely accurate, steady as a grandfather's clock and a fine competitor. . . . Give her a couple of years of tournament play and there won't be many girls who will be able to take her measure." . . . Ruth Needham, Escanaba golfer, lost to Vonnie in the semifinals of the U. P. tournament at Iron Mountain three years ago.

Ed Moersch had his Escanaba National Bank team mates pounding his back in the Elks Tuesday Night bowling league. . . . Ed needed three strikes in the 10th to give the Bankers a win over the Schlitz team and he came through to provide a one-pin margin of victory.

While we're on the subject, how did you like that 2972 count posted by the Ship Tavern team of Soo in the Upper Peninsula Bowling Association tournament at Ironwood last weekend. . . . Tourney officials tab the 2972 as the fourth highest ever rolled in the meet. . . . It's the first time since 1941 that any quintet has surpassed the 2900 mark.

Dodgers Wallop Senators, 10-4, In Sloppy Contest

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers walloped the Washington Senators 10-4 Wednesday night at Griffith Stadium in the season's first major league game in a major league park. It was far from major-league-caliber baseball.

Both clubs trotted out their best pitchers—Don Newcombe for the Dodgers and Bob Porterfield for the Senators. Newcombe walked three in a row, forcing in a run; gave up seven hits; and hit one batter in the six innings he worked. Porterfield also lasted six. The Dodgers got nine of their runs and seven of their hits off him and he walked seven and batted twice.

The Senators made four errors, two of them on a single play in the third inning when Sandy Amoros went all the way around on a little infield grounder. Mickey Vernon threw the ball away first and then Ed Fitzgerald threw it away again.

Other Pitching Better

The two clubs meet again tonight in Washington. The pitching was considerably better in several of the other exhibitions Wednesday. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago White Sox 2-1; the Chicago Cubs edged Baltimore 2-0; and the New York Giants nipped Cleveland 2-1. In other games Detroit beat the Philadelphia Phils 7-5; the New York Yankees defeated Norfolk, Va., 4-1; Pittsburgh shaded the Philadelphia Athletics 6-5; and the Boston Red Sox made it two straight over Milwaukee 7-2.

Two pitchers worked complete games. Whitey Ford became the first Yankee to go nine innings as he set down Norfolk on five hits. Duane Pillette of the Orioles allowed the Cubs only six hits but got beaten.

Haddix Looks Good

Hal Jeffcoat shifted from the Cubs' outfield to the pitching mound and blanked Baltimore on two hits through the last five innings.

Harvey Haddix hurled seven shutout innings for the Cardinals against the White Sox as Stan Musial and Bill Sarni drove in the two St. Louis runs. Bob Keegan was the loser.

Johnny Antonelli tried to go the distance for the Giants but needed help from reliable Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth when the first two batters singled. Cleveland's only run came when Jim Hegan singled with two out in the ninth. Hal Newhouser went the first five innings for the Indians and probably

Spring Grid Practice Under Way In Big Ten

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A flood of football hopefuls—about 850 in all—is starting to roll out on Big Ten practice fields for the opening of spring drills.

Purdue, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio State and Wisconsin already have opened their NCAA - restricted spring program of 20 sessions within a period of 30 calendar days.

Michigan, Michigan State and Northwestern will start Monday. Minnesota opens April 19 and Iowa is the last to get started, April 20. Purdue was the first to issue the call, on March 16, and will finish Saturday.

Spartan Lost 16

In all, the 850 players reporting will include more than 200 lettermen. The total number of lettermen lost through graduation is about 120.

Michigan State, the 1954 Rose Bowl champion and Big Ten co-champion with Illinois, lost 16—about the most in the conference—but has 20 returning.

Ohio State lost only nine—the fewest—and has the most coming back, 29. Other lettermen on hand for 1954 includes Illinois with 13, Michigan 17, Wisconsin 15, Northwestern 26, Indiana 16, Purdue 20, Iowa 18 and Minnesota 27.

Probably the largest turnout for spring drills will be the 103 at Indiana. Coach Bernie Crimmins said:

Indians Stronger

"We have a green squad but we've strengthened our weaknesses of last year (when the Hoosiers finished ninth) and we have more to work with than in the last two years."

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan State, Ohio State, Iowa and possibly Michigan appear to head the 1954 form chart, not necessarily in that order.

"All Big Ten teams will be tougher, better manned and in line for a good shot at the title next fall," predicted Wisconsin's Ivy Williamson. "There is an abundance of balance and power, the most since I came to Wisconsin in 1948."

McNicoll Named Golf Pro At Escanaba Club

James J. "Jim" McNicoll, who for the past seven years has been assistant professional in Duluth, Minn., has been appointed golf professional of the Escanaba Golf and Country Club for the 1954 season. It was announced today by T. D. Vinette, club president.

McNicoll, 25 years old and single, will come to Escanaba highly recommended by Pat Gustafson, former professional of the Marquette, Mich., Country Club and for the past 10 years pro at Ridgeview Country Club in Duluth.

The new Escanaba pro, who will succeed Eddie Ernst, will arrive here April 20 to make preparations for opening the pro shop and starting play at the local club May 1.

An Active Fellow

"McNicoll has had a lot of experience in conducting tournaments and other competitive activities and will do much to stimulate interest in golf at your club," Gustafson wrote the local club's directors.

A graduate of Duluth Cathedral High School and for two years a journalism major at Marquette University in Milwaukee, the new pro started in golf as a caddy at the Enger Park Golf Course in Duluth. After caddying for eight years, he served as aide to Hank Jensen, pro, and then served as assistant professional under Gustafson at Ridgeview in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

He also was assistant under Harold L. Clasen at the Northland Country Club in Duluth in 1949 and 1950 and after two years in the U. S. Army Signal Corps as a cryptographic technician, he returned to Northland and served under Clasen for another year.

Golf His Career

"You will find that McNicoll has had a lot of training and instruction in all the details of managing a pro shop, teaching the game, handling caddies and conducting golf competitions," Gustafson said in his letter of recommendation.

In an interview here recently with the Escanaba Golf Club board of directors, McNicoll said he was pleased with the prospects in Escanaba. "I fully intend to make golf my career," he added.

Has Low Handicap

During the winter of 1949-50, McNicoll was associated with Clasen and West Stafne, professional at Cloquet, Minn., in the Pickwick Indoor Golf School in Duluth.

He is a member of the North Lakes Golf Association, composed of all clubs within 100 miles of Duluth, and at the present is a Class D PGA member. Upon accepting his first fulltime pro job in Escanaba, he will be elevated to Class A. This is in conformance with Professional Golfers Association regulations.

"I plan to have competition available for everyone regardless of age, handicap or anything else," he asserted. "I want also to urge competition and help out with junior golf as much as possible."

In addition to considerable shop and tournament organization experience, McNicoll is a capable golfer with a handicap that varies from two to three.

Spartan Depth Is Big Problem

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty buckles down to work Monday with the Rose Bowl champion Michigan State football team.

Duffy, the former line coach, already is doing a little worrying. "Our big problem at Michigan State this year is depth," he said. Clarence (Biggie) Munn, who is moving up to athletic director, said Daugherty will be running the team on his own.

"I'll be out there to look them over, of course," Munn said. Daugherty expected between 90 and 100 candidates out for the first showup Monday, mostly a picture-taking session.

The real grind of the four-week spring training will get underway Tuesday.

Twenty practice sessions will be crowded into a 30-day period. A full dress intersquad game in Macklin Stadium will wind up the spring drills May 8.

In addition to former head coach Munn, also missing are Steve Sebo and Dewayne King, now at Pennsylvania, and Earle Edwards, head man at North Carolina State.

Daugherty and his crew of new assistants do have 21 lettermen returning.

Packers Will Train At Stevens Point College

GREEN BAY, Wis.—General Manager Verne Lewellen announced today the selection of Stevens Point State College, as the site of the Green Bay Packers training camp for the 1954 season.

The Stevens Point site was selected after considering several locations, including Ripon College, Two Rivers, and St. Norbert's College at West DePere, Wis.

St. Norbert's College, which would return the Packers home for their training, was not available this year, because of summer school and other college activities requiring the facilities of the dormitory and dining room until the middle of August.

Present plans call for the opening of training camp on July 25. An Intra-Squad game will be played at Stevens Point after two weeks of training, which will provide the fans in the Wisconsin

Tigers Can Be Glad They Don't Have To Face Phillies Again

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The Detroit Tigers could be thankful today they have met the Philadelphia Phillies for the last time.

In eight games with the Phillies this spring four Detroit players have been nicked by errant pitches. Outfielder Bob Nieman was bopped on the left arm April 1 by pitcher Bob Greenwood.

Three were hit Wednesday as the Tigers pounded out a 7-5 decision over the Phillies in their final meeting of the exhibition season. It was the Tigers' fifth victory in the eight games.

Third baseman Ray Boone was hit on the arm by Curt Simmons in the third inning. The injury was not believed serious.

Simmons had fired another stray pitch earlier that struck rookie outfielder Al Kaline.

Steve Ridzik, who relieved Simmons, nicked Walt Dropo in the final inning. The Tigers slammed Simmons for 12 hits in six innings but were still behind 5-4 when Ridzik took over for the Phils. A pair of home runs by Del Ennis had staked Simmons to his lead.

Jim Delsing greeted Ridzik with a 400-foot blast that cleared the fence and tied the score.

The Tigers went on to win in the next inning with a two-run outburst. Steve Gromek worked the entire game for the Tigers, giving up eight hits, while his teammates rapped out a total of 17.

Escanabans Lead In Women's Keg Tourney

The Peterson Block Co. quintet of Escanaba has gone into first place after two weekends of bowling in the ninth annual Upper Peninsula women's tournament being conducted at the Sportland alleys in Marquette.

The Escanaba five hit 2,491, topping the first week's leaders—the Shoreland Bars of Marquette—by 23 pins.

Two members of the Peterson Block team—Effie Van Effen and Dorothy Peterson—also rolled into first place in the doubles with 1,119, and the latter has moved out in front in the all-events division (with handicap) with a score of 1,606.

Following are the standings of leaders:

River Valley and surrounding territory an opportunity to see the Packer prospects for the 1954 season. Many State fans will, no doubt, visit camp and attend the Intra-Squad game because of the central location of the training site.

A week following the Intra-Squad game, the Packers open the non-championship schedule with the Chicago Cardinals at Minneapolis, on Saturday night, Aug. 14. This charity game is sponsored by the Catholic Welfare Association and has been well attended the past three years.

Splendid dormitory accommodations and dining room facilities are provided, as well as two practice fields. This will enable Coach Blackbourn to select proper menus for the boys, and the opportunity to house the squad together during the important training weeks.

Alabama Prison Sentences Cheap

By REX THOMAS
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—You can be sent to prison in Alabama and wear the brand of an ex-convict the rest of your life for no more than using abusive language or driving a car without a license. Scores of men, and women too, walk into the penitentiary each month to serve sentences of a few months or a few weeks—or, in some instances only a few days. They're checked in, given a number, fingerprinted and mugged like all other convicts even though they may have only 10 days to serve, or less. Records at Kilby prison tell the incredible story of men brought miles across the state with a debt to society of one day plus court costs which are worked out at the rate of 75 cents a day. These short-termers are county prisoners, convicted of misdemeanors which carry hard labor sentences of a year or less. Under a 1927 law, counties can, and do, turn county prisoners over to the state rather than feed and house them. In the 1952-53 fiscal year which ended Sept. 3, Kilby imprisoned 984 county convicts. Twenty of them had 30 days or less to serve, 266 had less than 60 days, and 389 were in for less than three months. Many of the county prisoners go to prison because they can't pay court-imposed fines and costs.

Royal Oak Boy, 12, Has Rare Blood Disease

DETROIT (AP)—The condition of 12-year-old Jimmy Hall of Royal Oak, suffering from a rare blood infection, was reported slightly improved Wednesday. Blood donated by Dr. William B. Bell, an Adrian dentist who recovered from the same infection last September, was administered to Jimmy Monday. Doctors said it would be another day before the full effect of the new blood could be determined.

Kansas City Youth Wins Legion Award

LOS ANGELES (AP)—High school sophomore Jack E. McNees of Kansas City, Kan., is the winner of the American Legion Oratorical Contest finals, and a $4,000 college scholarship. Milton H. Copeland, Wichita Falls, Tex., won second place and $2,500 for higher education, and George J. Clements, Penn. Yan, N.Y., won third and a $1,500 scholarship.
